

Herb Memory Game:

Color the border of each pair of cards in the same color and use scissors to cut out the cards. Turn cards upside down and take turns to find the pairs.

Rosemary

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to preserve meat

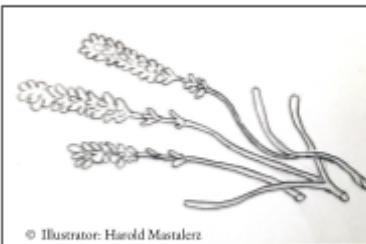

Rosmarinus Officinalis

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Oil reduces some headaches

Lavender

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as moth repellent

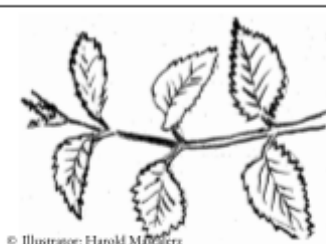

Lavandula Officinalis

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to scent clothes

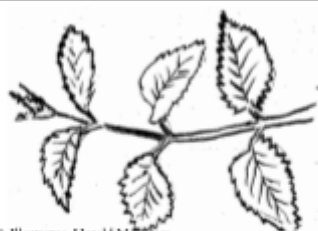

Catmint

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to relieve insomnia and pain

Nepeta Cataria

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Today used in cat toys

Sage

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as a dye for hair and fabric

Salvia Officinalis

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to flavor food and treat coughs

Stachys byzantina

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Leaves are soft like fur and shaped like a lamb's ear

Lamb's Ear

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as a colonial band aid

Broom

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used for making brooms

Sorghum Bicolor

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used for pain relief

Sweet Woodruff

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to spice May punch

Galium odoratum

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as mattress stuffing

Tanacetum balsamita

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Smell prevents drowsiness and prevents booklice

Herb Memory Game:

Color the border of each pair of cards in the same color and use scissors to cut out the cards. Turn cards upside down and take turns to find the pairs.

Costmary

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as a bookmark in bibles

Bee Balm

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Leaves used as tea after Boston Tea Party 1773

Monarda Fistulosa

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as medicinal tea to treat colds and nausea

Chives

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to drive away evil spirits

Allium Schoenoprasum

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to flavor salad and soups

Chamomile

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used in teas to treat colds

Matricaria Recutita

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Tea helps with stomach ache

Basil

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to flavor soups and salads

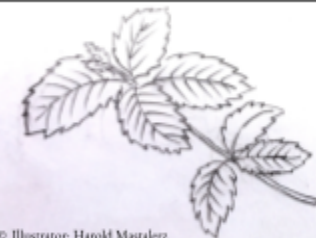

Ocimum Basilicum

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Basil shows insect repellent properties

Lemon Balm

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as tea on weak stomachs and against melancholy

Melissa officinalis

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to attract honeybees

Thyme

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to remove warts

Thymus vulgaris

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used to flavor food

Spearmint

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as Colonial Toothpaste

Mentha spicata

© Illustrator: Harold Mastalerz

Used as "Liberty Tea" during the Revolution as it was not taxed